Carbon Curling Club 1931 Bonspiel Started Tuesday

The annual bonspiel of the Carbon Curling Club got away to a good start on Tuesday morning of this week, when four of the local rinks commenced to play. The ice was in fair shape for the first two draws, but, as was anticipated, the curling draws will not be played during the afternoons unless the weather turns colder.

There are twenty rinks entered in the bonspiel this year, there being ten outside rinks and ten local rinks. Following is a list of the rinks entered: G. Yavis, Drumheller; J. Jackson, of Drumheller, W. McKenzie, Drumheller; H. Roberts, Drumheller; M. Gooderich, Acme, J. C. Smith, Acme, W. L. Tolton, Acme; R. Stone, Rockyford; F. Tricker, Swallow; M. Powers, Swallow. MANY GOLFERS ENJOY SPORT

Golfing on the Carbon Golf Course was a pleasure on Sunday, February 1, and many of the local players enjoyed a round that afternoon. There were also a number of players over from the neighboring town of Rockyford to take in this sport. There has been no snow at all on the golf course for the past month or more and with the exception of the greens the course is in better shape than it has ever been.

Gophers and Snakes Out

Gophers have been seen in the vicinity of Carbon for the past two weeks and snakes have been seen this week. This should be almost sure signs that spring will not be far off, if it is not now at hand, (especially as the pussy willows are out) but then, even mother nature may be fooled with our long spell of Indian Summer which has practically continued since last fall.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. S. Mortimer and family wish to thank all friends for their kindness to Stewart during his illness. Also for expressions of sympathy and floral tributes received in our recent sad bereavement.

STEWART MORTIMER BURIED

Funeral services of the late Stewart Mortimer, who died on January 26th, were held from the English Church, Carbon, on Wednesday afternoon last, January 28th. The Church was crowded with friends wishing to pay their last respects to the deceased.

Rev. Batchelor officiated at the service and the pall bearers were Messrs. Tom Ramsay, Jas. Ramsay, H. N. McNaughton, H. Evans, Chas. Nash and Neill Cunningham. Interment was made in the Carbon cemetery.

Winter Bros. of Drumheller had full charge of the funeral arrangements.

THANKFUL

(By Edna Jacques)

Naught to be thankful for, did you say, As you sat by the old garage today. The crops are poor and the cattle thin, And the spuds are not what they might have been. And there isn't much you can sell this year, You're going to be very hard up you fear.

Well, what if you are, why man alive, If you have to struggle and skimp and strive, And pinch a dollar until it hurts, For winter woollens and shoes & shirts, We've all been over the trail before, And poverty's often knocked at the door.

It won't hurt you a bit, old man you know, If you have to put the gears in low.

When the crops were good and the prices high, Say, didn't we soar and spend and fly, The sky was the limit, we took the air, And blew our crops like a millionaire.

But there's always a time when we have to pay, And the bills pile up for a rainy day, And you start to think where you might have stood, If you'd kept your head when the crops were good, But cars cost money, and trips, oh say, The dough has a habit of melting away.

And what crops we had in our countryside, When the wheat threshed out like a golden tide, And the gods of harvest with lavish hand, Scattered his riches across the land, When the wheat poured out on the grainery floor, And there wasn't room for a bushel more.

But let's forget what we might have done, There'll be more harvests and rain and sun, And let's be decent and take the blame, And be sports enough to play the game, And let's come down to earth and stay, And get a grip on the things that pay.

CANADIAN WHEAT POOL NOTES

The Alberta Wheat Pool will conduct a referendum on the question of an one hundred per cent Pool next summer when the annual election of delegates is being held. A ballot will be sent to each member on which the following question will be asked: "Are you in favor of an One Hundred Per Cent Pool by Legislation?"

The Canadian Milling Journal; It is strange that the farmers in Western Canada are urged to abandon their Wheat Pool and go back to the old system while in other countries (notably Argentina) the farmers are denouncing the old system and demanding Pools.

R. H. Milliken, Saskatchewan Wheat Pool Solicitor: "The present Grain Exchange method of selling wheat is primarily based on the theory that in order to function properly there must be a speculating public at all times to buy or sell, shifting in the most delicately attuned manner from one side of the market to the other as conditions may appear to affect the supply or demand for wheat. In actual practice, when conditions are good, the speculating public runs amok on the buying side of the market, as for example in the fall of 1929, when as a result of speculation our market was run away out of line in Winnipeg, so that export trade was wiped out; again when conditions are bad there is no speculating public and prices fall out of sight, as is the case at the present time."

The Canadian Co-operator: "What do you think of the Wheat Pool now is a question often put to the writer. 'Just about what I have always thought about it,' has been my reply. The wheat Pool may or may not have made similar mistakes to the Canadian private grain trade on the questions of market policy, but it is one of the victims and not the cause of the breakdown of the economic structure of the world.

What we, as co-operators, are more concerned about is that if the Wheat Pool has made mistakes it will realize them, and will not make the same mistakes twice. A man who does not make a mistake does not make anything worth while. The early development of the British Movement was accompanied by many experimental mistakes. With all their accumulated experience, British co-operators still make mistakes, but they have to be very big before they can be felt, owing to the immensity of their success and resources.

Thorough investigation into the values offered by present retail prices as compared with those of a year ago reveals that the slogan of the past few weeks, "Buy Now and Buy Cheaper," is supported by facts.

In a number of cases, the initial, wholesale or production cost of the article or commodity under review has dropped considerably during the past year. A most striking example of this class of goods is found in groceries. Practically all the staple food articles, that is sugar, flour, potatoes, meat and so on, due to economic conditions, have dropped in price, in some cases as much as 200 per cent.

The following comparative prices in some of the more standardized grocery lines will give some idea of the decreased cost of living now as compared with a year ago. The 1929 prices are given first, with present quotations following:

Commodity	A Year Ago	Today
Flour, 40 pound sack	$2.00	$1.30
Sugar 20 pound sack	1.35	1.00
Eggs, per dozen	.75	.25
Butter, per pound	.45	.35
Lemons, per dozen	.45	.20
Oranges, per dozen	.60	.30
Bacon, per pound	.38	.36
Bread, per loaf	12 1-2	.09
Potatoes, per 100-lb. sack	3.50	1.25
Pork Chops, per pound	.27	.24

The Talkie picture to be shown at the Carbon Theatre on Friday of this week will be "The Dawn Patrol." This picture will feature three of the greatest actors of today, Richard Barthelmell, Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Neil Hamilton.

The Talkie at Carbon two weeks ago was particularly good and with this great picture coming it is expected that a record audience will be there.

Taking the Census

One of the important pieces of work to be undertaken by the Federal Government this year is the census enumeration of the people of Canada, and the compiling of a vast amount of other information dealing with the status of our citizenship, and indicating the development of the Dominion within the past ten years.

The taking of the census is a big job, and an exceedingly important one. It requires elaborate and complete organization, careful publicity to acquaint people with what is expected of them when the enumerators call, and a small army of men to gather the information required, and another large group of experts to assemble and classify the information when it is received by the Department at Ottawa.

It is quite possible that some people look upon the taking of the census as a matter of comparatively small importance, and that, at this time especially, the large expenditure of money involved could be put to much better use. Such a view, however, is not only very superficial but quite erroneous. Taking the census is important in any country, but in no other country does it have quite so pronounced an effect as in Canada, and more especially in Western Canada.

In the first place, the representative of each Province of the Dominion in the House of Commons at Ottawa is based upon the census figures. The constitution of Canada stipulates that the basis of representation in the House of Commons shall be one member for each one-sixty-fifth of the population of Quebec. That is, Quebec shall be represented by sixty-five members regardless of its population. Dividing the total population of Quebec by sixty-five gives the number of people represented by each member, and that same number of people in each of the other Provinces become entitled to a member. In other words, an absolutely fair basis of representation is thus arrived at.

Money grants to the Provinces from the Dominion treasury are also based upon population, but in the case of the Western Provinces a larger number of grants rest on this basis than is true of other Provinces. For example, grants to these Provinces in lieu of lands increase as population increases until the maximum is reached. Consequently it is important that an absolutely accurate census of our people be recorded, and especially so in the case of the West which is the most rapidly growing section of the Dominion. Increased western representation at Ottawa will likely have a profound effect upon national policies, while larger money grants will enable our provincial governments to meet the growing needs of these western communities.

The census is likewise a national stock-taking. It will reveal the extent of our growth and development as Provinces and as a Dominion within the past ten years. It will reveal to us evidences of national strength and disclose where weaknesses exist. For all these reasons it is important that every citizen fully co-operates with the enumerators and officials in making the census this year complete and accurate in every respect.

The census of 1931 will be the seventh decennial census of Canada since Confederation. It will be of interest to recall what the previous six "counting of noses" disclosed in the matter of Canada's population. Following Confederation in 1867, the first census was taken in 1871 and revealed a population of 3,485,761. By 1881 the population has grown to 4,342,810; in 1891 to 4,833,239; in 1901 to 5,371,315; in 1911 to 7,206,643, and in 1921 to 8,788,483.

It will be noted that whereas between 1881 and 1891, and between 1891 and 1901, the population increased by only half a million in each ten year period, the increase between 1901 and 1911 was nearly two million, and between 1911 and 1921 a million and a half. That is, whereas Canada's population only increased by one million in the last 20 years of the nineteenth century, it increased by three and one-half million in the first 20 years of the twentieth century.

The settlement of these Western Provinces accounted for much of this larger increase. In later years, however, there has not been the same phenomenal flow of immigration into the West, while on the other hand, the great productive and purchasing power of the West has contributed enormously to the industrial growth and prosperity of Eastern Canada. As a result, this year's census may not disclose the same ratio of increase in the West as compared with the East.

In view, however, of the important bearing which the census has upon both the economic life and the public administration of affairs of Canada it is, let it be repeated, of the utmost importance that all citizens co-operate thoroughly with the army of officials entrusted with taking this year's census in order that it may be a most efficient and reliable statistical record of the Dominion.

The totals for 1930 by provinces were: Ontario, $175,459,000; Quebec, $154,672,000; British Columbia, $32,987,000; Saskatchewan, $27,361,000; Alberta, $25,081,000; Manitoba, $22,010,000; New Brunswick, $11,067,000; Nova Scotia, $7,238,000 and Prince Edward Island, $1,120,000.

Export Of Totem Poles

Investigation Is Ordered In Respect To Carload Shipment

Acting on representations from Premier S. F. Tolmie, of British Columbia, the Dominion Government ordered an investigation into the removal of a carload of totem poles shipped from Prince Rupert for a United States museum.

The car will not be allowed out of Canada pending the enquiry. The premier, on being informed of this shipment, telegraphed immediately to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, protesting on the ground that the fast-dying art of the totem should be preserved as far as possible. Mr. Bennett telegraphed Dr. Tolmie recently, assuring him that the whole matter would be the subject of thorough investigation.

MIDDLE AGE

A Critical Time For All Women

"I am beginning to feel my age" is the confession many a woman has to make when she reaches the critical time of middle life. There is no need, however, to think you are too old to be well and happy.

Perhaps you have lost your grip on things; perhaps the old vigor and energy is lacking; you get tired easily, and your limbs ache terribly. Often your back seems ready to break and the pain is unbearable.

Your blood is at fault—it has become thin and impure and does not give the health-giving nourishment to the body. What you need is a treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will set you right. They actually make rich, red, health-giving blood and this good blood will drive out all your aches and pains.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will banish headaches, backaches, nervousness and lack of appetite, and in their place will come new energy and happiness. You can get these Pills at all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Evolution Of the Windmill

New Use For Windmill Is In Connection With Airplanes

Windmills, like many other things and people, have moved with the times. In their new guise, they may possibly not be so picturesque as their forerunners, but they are playing an important part in the industrial life.

Modern windmills pump water, also supply electric light for light-houses.

The most up-to-date use for the windmill is in connection with airplanes. The auto-giro, or windmill plane, is now so far advanced that Thomas Edison, the world-famous inventor, has expressed his firm belief that this invention will revolutionize world flying.

Miller's Worm Powders will eradicate the worm evil that bears so heavily on children and is believed to cause many fatalities. They are an acceptable medicine to children and can be fully relied upon to clear the food channels thoroughly of these destructive parasites and restore the inflamed and painful surfaces to healthfulness. They are an excellent remedy for these evils.

Homestead Regulations

Changes Made On Recommendation Of Minister Of the Interior

Regulations governing the conversion of patented pre-emptions or purchased homesteads into soldier grants have been altered in an order-in-council noted in the Canada Gazette. Changes have been made on recommendation of Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of Interior, who found that several applicants are debarred from making such conversion on the ground that they had already obtained patent for their pre-emption or purchased homestead.

The new provisions are as follows: "1. Where patent for a pre-emption or purchased homestead has been issued, or where such patent has not yet been issued, if the holder of the pre-emption or purchased homestead is permitted to convert the same into a soldier entry grant, all sums paid on account of principal or interest in connection with the said pre-emption or purchased homestead may, upon application, be refunded to the holder of the land, or to the soldier settlement board in cases where an advance has been made under the provisions of the Soldier Settlement Act. "2. The foregoing regulation shall be deemed to be retroactive in its application."

Deaf Children Are Happy

Little Ones At Belleville School Do Not Feel Handicap

"No finer demonstration of the rapid advance which has been made in the care and treatment of deaf children can be found than at the Ontario School for the Deaf at Belleville," says the Ottawa Journal. "No sign of sadness, no sense of handicap or futility is to be found amongst these children, and despite the fact that 90 per cent. of them cannot hear a single word, they carry on animated conversations, play games, sing and dance, just the same as other little ones who have no such handicap."

Canada Has Taken Adequate Measures For The Protection And Propagation Of Game

The early history of Canada, its exploration and developments, is very closely woven with the story of the wild life of the country. The fur was the lure which led the early traders and adventurers to penetrate the interior of the country while the game provided a means of sustenance, not only to the traders and explorers, but also in a large measure to the early colonists.

In those early days every species of game native to the North American continent, including buffalo, elk, antelope, moose, deer, caribou, muskox, mountain sheep, mountain goat, bears, wolves, cougars and other small game and fur-bearing animals, as well as game birds of all varieties, were plentiful everywhere within their native range throughout Canada. Owing, however, to the advance of settlement and other contributing factors of civilization the vast supply of game became greatly depleted; in fact, certain species such as the buffalo, elk, antelope, and muskox were in serious danger of total extermination.

Happily, however, the situation has been met by the Federal and Provincial Governments of Canada and means have been taken to protect and conserve all useful species of wild life. The provincial authorities drafted laws conserving the game and at the same time reserved areas for their complete protection.

The Federal Government's contribution to the cause of game protection includes the establishment of six reserves in the Northwest Territories and the Province of Alberta, with an area of 546,857 square miles; 43 bird sanctuaries with an approximate area of 1,000 square miles in which the birds receive absolute protection throughout the year; 51 public shooting grounds with an area of 700 square miles, where birds receive protection during the nesting and rearing period, and the absolute protection of all game, fur-bearing animals, and birds in the eighteen great National Parks, having an approximate area of over 12,000 square miles.

As these parks and reserves are located in practically every province in Canada all animals and birds are propagated upon their natural range and every species of Canadian native wild life has been saved to posterity. In fact, certain species which are not native to Canada have been introduced successfully and add materially to the value of the country's wild life.

Canada welcomes sportsmen to share in her plentiful supply of game and so vast are her hunting districts and so diversified are the conditions that the hunter, no matter what his preference, is sure to be satisfied. The entire Dominion is opened up by highways, railways, steamship or air lines so that the sportsman is conveyed in comfort to his "going-in" point. At established points he will find accommodation and also outfitters who are prepared to furnish guides, canoes, camping equipment, pack trains and everything necessary for a trip through the country in which he decides to hunt.

Natural Gas Consumption

The consumption of natural gas in Canada during 1929 for domestic purposes was calculated to be sufficient to displace 640,000 tons of coal. Natural gas is found in abundance in Alberta and in some parts of Western Ontario.

Tests indicate that oxygen is deadly to mosquitoes in the larval stage.

Seed Production

Thousands Of Bushels Of Registered Seed Produced In The Maritime Provinces

The objective of the seed production policy of the Federal Department of Agriculture is a suitable and continuous supply for Canadian farmers through conveniently localized production. Digby and Yarmouth counties in Nova Scotia have produced 1,700 pounds of registered and 2,500 pounds of commercial turnip seed for 1930; many thousands of bushels of registered seed oats have been produced in the Maritime provinces, together with considerable quantities of registered seed wheat and barley; while Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick have districts in which seed of a particularly high quality is available for Maritime supply during the 1931 crop year.

LOVELY NEW SPORTSWEAR

All Tingey models are created and sketched in Paris and the patterns are made in New York.

Pique is such a fresh addition to the tweed frock. It has a way of becoming soiled easily, however—and goodbye chic! The busy woman—and who among us is not busy—can therefore only hope for such touches on her frock to be easily removable for laundering.

Note today's model and how extremely easily the pique bows can be reconditioned. The front, broader one is a straight strip bowed and passed through one slot and the closure as shown. On the sleeves narrower strips are similarly passed through two slots. You will note they decorate the upper arm an area of the newest Paris dresses that has suddenly assumed much importance. Other fairly firm woollens besides tweed can be used for this dress.

This pattern may be obtained in sizes 14 to 20 and 34 to 40. It is ready for immediate delivery. It is hand cut.

Dollar Wheat

Livestock Used As a Medium For Marketing Grain At Fair Prices

Most people today think Dollar Wheat a thing of the past. But this is not necessarily the case when livestock is used as a medium for the marketing of this essential grain. Values as high as five dollars per bushel when fed to hens and sold in the form of eggs on the winter market are claimed by feeding experts. But particularly timely and interesting is the finding of the Dominion Experimental Station at Lacombe, Alta., which places per bushel value of wheat at the following figures:

Radio On the Farm

More Important On the Farm Than Any Other Place

"Information can be just as pleasant as entertainment" asserted Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Federal Deputy Minister of Agriculture, speaking at Ottawa recently. "The radio is important to agriculture. The young people are becoming daily more important on the farm and they want radio entertainment. Radio provides this; it keeps the farmer in touch with the market situation and weather conditions, and it also keeps him in touch with the news of local and world happenings. I think radio is more important in the farm home than in any other home, it brings the world to the front door."

The Weak Link

Lowering Production Costs On Farm Is Necessary

"If there is one weak link in the chain of farm operation today it is in the well-considered production of farm feeds, home grown, produced at cost," asserts G. B. Rothwell, Dominion Animal Husbandman, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. In the final analysis the low acre unit production is largely the reason for high cost milk, admitting all the imperfections and low average production of our cows. The farmer's one and only salvation today is in lowering production costs under his control, i.e., on his farm.

Information About Eggs

Eggs Are Rich In Proteins, Vitamins and Minerals

Two tons of grain will produce 480 dozen of eggs. Sold as grain at a price of $1 per cwt. it would be worth $40. Sold as eggs at 25 cents per dozen it would be worth $120.

An egg is 66 per cent. water, 13 per cent. protein, 10 per cent. fat and 11 per cent. lime or ash.

In an egg 60 per cent. is white, 30 per cent. yolk, and 10 per cent. shell.

The best eggs of the year are those laid in the months of April, May and June.

An egg eaten between September and March is worth more to the average person in a northern climate than one eaten between April and August.

Eggs and milk together are liquid meat in the most digestive and assimilable form.

An egg weighing two ounces holds approximately 70 calories in fuel value.

The egg is aptly termed "bottled sunshine." It is rich in proteins, vitamins and minerals.

Of the five vitamins the egg supplies Vitamins A, B, D and E. It is particularly rich in "D" the sunshine vitamin.—Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Alberta Creameries

Receipts For Eleven Months Reach Total Of 14,452,063 Pounds

Receipts of cream in Alberta creameries were more than 40 per cent. greater during November than during the same month of the previous year, the figures being 811,480 pounds of butter fat as against 575,195 pounds, according to C. P. Marker, dairy commissioner. Receipts for the eleven months reached 14,452,063 pounds, an increase of about ten per cent. over the corresponding previous eleven month period.

New Signs Suggested

A Houston (Texas) man declares that danger signs at railroad crossing are based on the wrong psychology. He says, tell a man to "Stop, Look and Listen," and he is impelled to do none of the three. He suggests for railroad crossings:

"Come ahead. You're not important."
"Don't stop. Nobody will miss you."
"Take a chance. You can get hit by a train only once."

The traditional silence of the Arctic has been broken by government radio stations broadcasting news and special programs to the ice-bound inhabitants of Canada's far north, it was announced by Hon. Alfred Duranleau, minister of marine. No longer will be it necessary for Hudson Bay factors, miners, trappers and prospectors to wait months, and sometimes years, to learn who won the world series, the results of Canadian, British or United States elections, how their favorite hockey team is progressing or the name and accomplishments of the latest world celebrity.

Through the government chain of radio stations in the north all such news now is relayed to them a few hours or days after it has taken place. The inauguration of the system was accomplished a few days ago and already the results have justified the effort. Mr. Duranleau said. Three of the government stations, those at Churchill on Hudson's Bay, Chesterfield Inlet on the eastern side of the bay and Copper Mine River on the Arctic Ocean, have been equipped with broadcasting apparatus. Each station goes on the air at stipulated times after it has picked up news synopsis, personal announcements and general information from Canadian, British or United States short-wave stations. This is consolidated and edited before being relayed to the isolated inhabitants of the north.

One of the chief duties of the stations is to broadcast the latest "Social News" of the north. When a trader or trapper leaves a post for another settlement, this is sent over the air and if he does not arrive at his destination on time, immediate efforts are made to locate him. Personal messages from "down south" are sent out to missionaries and traders which might take months to reach them if sent by mail.

Receiving sets are becoming standard equipment with the men of the north. They are looked upon as being almost as necessary as dogs, guns or heavy clothing.

Canada's Blueberry Industry

Figures As To Exact Volume Of Production Not Obtainable

Blueberries represent probably Canada's greatest unorganized industry. No modern methods for cultivating or harvesting have as yet made their appearance in the Dominion, and only a superficial idea of the volume of production is obtainable. They represent both a fresh and frozen fruit trade and at the present time there are some 600,000 lbs. held in storage for the baking trade. Only about one-tenth of this quantity will be used in Canada.—Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Braille Books Circulated

A sidelight on one of the most interesting activities of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind was given at a recent meeting of the directors. It was stated 2,003 volumes in Braille, or raised type, had been circulated by the institute's library in October, throughout Canada and in parts of the United States, and even in Mexico. The circulation was 500 volumes greater than in October, 1929.

How To Lose Fat and Get That Youthful Feeling

Over in Great Britain when a man is feeling "as fit as a fiddle" and looking the "picture of health" they say: "HE'S GOT THAT KRUSCHEN FEELING."

That means he takes his little dose of Kruschen Salts every morning. It's the same in the U.S.A.—in Germany—in Holland—in Australia—in South Africa, for Kruschen Salts are now sold the world over.

Kruschen Salts is not one salt only—it is the combination of six salts necessary to healthy life.

Take half a teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning, modify your diet and exercise regularly.

But don't miss a morning, for Kruschen not only puts and keeps the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in a splendid healthy condition, but purifies your blood-stream, and sends new life and activity to every part of your body.

Switzerland Has Leaning Tower

The Tower of Pisa isn't the only leaning one in the world. Switzerland has a leaning tower, too, right in St. Moritz. It is the tower of the old town church, which has a very pronounced slant. It dates from 1573, and is the only part of the old church now standing.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 8

JESUS THE WORLD'S TEACHER

Golden Text: "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."—Luke 6.31.

Lesson: Luke 6.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 3. 13-18.

Explanations and Comments

The Law Of Love, verses 27-31. — But I say unto you that hear: here Jesus turns from the worldlings upon whom He has been pronouncing His woes, to His followers, and counsels them to be ruled by love in their treatment of their enemies. The Greek word for "love" in our text is carefully chosen. It is not demanded that we should love our enemies with a natural and spontaneous affection ("philein"), but with a supernatural Christian love that comes by grace ("agapan"). At the time when Jesus uttered these words, revenged wreaked upon an enemy was considered noble. How Cicero gloated over the misfortunes of an enemy; he thought himself fortunate on his death bed that he could say that no one had done more good to his friends nor more mischief to his enemies!

The Goodness Expected Of Christ's Followers, verses 31-35a. If you love them that love you, if you do good to them that do good to you, what kind of thanks have you, what kind of reward do you deserve? for even sinners love those who love them. Love given for love is only glorified selfishness. Show your love by unselfishness, by loving your enemies as well as your friends; by doing good to those who do evil to you as well as to those who treat you well; by lending to those from whom nothing will be received as well as to those who will return the favor. And the great argument is that even sinners do good to those that do good to them, lend to sinners expecting to receive as much in return. Of followers of Christ far more is expected.

Kindness and Mercifulness, 35b, 36. — Do all things—love your enemies, do them good, and lend, never despairing—and your reward shall be great—ye shall be sons of God, for He is kind toward the unthankful and evil. Be merciful even as your Father is merciful.

"It is an attribute of God Himself, And earthly power doth then show likest God's

When mercy seasons justice."

—Shakespeare.

Be Charitable In Judgment and Generous In Giving, verses 37, 38. — Judge not, and ye shall not be judged; and condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned; release, set free, a debtor or offender, and ye shall be released. These are general statements which are not to be taken without qualification. The example of Jesus Himself shows when judging and condemning is a duty. Read Matthew 18:15; 2 Tim. 4:2. Apply the Golden Rule, and judge others as you would that others should judge you.

"An otherwise beautiful character is often made almost repulsive by the single bad habit of censoriousness. It is one of the temptations of the good to indulge in harsh judgment of the faults of others. Cultivating a stern conscience merely for the sake of flaunting goodness is no more Christlike, and no more heart-enriching and satisfying, than giving to make a display with money."

MAJORITY FOR LABOR ON TRADES DISPUTES BILL

London, England.—In a packed and excited House of Commons the government got through the second reading of the Trades Disputes Bill by a majority of 27.

The government majority was larger even than had been expected. Only seven other Liberals voted with Sir John Simon in opposition to the bill and with the Conservative opposition. One Liberal supported the bill by his vote; the rest abstained from recording their opinion.

As soon as the result of this vote was announced, Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative chief, moved that the bill be referred to a committee of the whole House.

Again the House divided. This time, however, the majority of the Liberals voted with the government, and the MacDonald majority rose to 62. The net result is—in the parlance of Westminster—that the bill will go "upstairs" for committee consideration clause by clause. The committee stage will be passed in a standing committee instead of the committee of the whole where the possibility of a government defeat on a matter of detail is always present.

The final day's debate on the bill opened in breezy style with Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill on his feet. It ambled along with the contributions of back-benchers during the dinner period and ended snappily with Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, the secretary of state for the Dominions.

Mr. Churchill described the trades unions as pampered pets heaped with privileges under the new bill. The Laborites continually interrupted Mr. Churchill with ironical cheers.

"Why," Mr. Churchill asked, in reference to levies, "why should a patriotic Conservative trades unionist have to subscribe to the political fund of the cosmopolitan Socialist? Why should a Catholic have to subscribe to a fund, perhaps, of an Agnostic or an Atheist?"

These words brought a Labor storm.

"Filthy argument," one Laborite shouted.

Mr. Churchill spoke of the Liberal decision not to vote as an outrage of the first order.

"What," Mr. Churchill asked, "has become of the Liberal traditions?"

Here a Laborite interrupted, pointing at Mr. Churchill, said: "He's not a tradition; he's an extradition," and a roar of laughter went up from the House.

The Liberals had compromised on the bill, Mr. Churchill added, they might not dislike it much in the House of Commons, but they were going to hate it like poison "upstairs." Mr. Churchill finished by comparing Prime Minister MacDonald with the "boneless wonder" of a circus.

Need For Early Session

Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King Issues a Statement

Ottawa, Ont.—With the declaration that in some parts of Canada today the distress is greater than it has ever been, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, has issued a statement calling upon the prime minister to shed some light on when parliament will meet. Notwithstanding that the government has had a free hand with its policies and expenditures, "conditions in Canada today are much worse than they were at the time of the calling of the special session in September last," asserts Mr. King.

"There is, at present, much more need for the regular annual session of parliament to consider the conditions of the country's affairs than there was for any special session in September," added the Opposition leader.

Mr. King remarks that "the pretext that the reassembling of parliament should wait over until the arrival in Canada of the new Governor-General cannot be taken seriously." He comments on the fact that Premier R. B. Bennett is going to Washington, and expresses the hope that "before the prime minister embarks upon further missions which take him away from Canada he will at least let the country know when it may expect the reassembling of its parliament."

No Acreage Cut

Says Manitoba Farmers Will Trust To a Turn in the Wheel Of Fortune

Winnipeg, Man.—Manitoba farmers will "trust to a turn in the wheel of I. B. Griffiths, member for Russell, fortune" next spring at seeding time, declared in the legislature as he moved adoption of the Speech from the Throne, delivered by the Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. J. D. MacGregor. Farmers were uncertain, Mr. Griffiths asserted, and he doubted if many would reduce their grain acreage to any extent.

Nicholas A. Hryhorczuk, Liberal member for Ethelbert, seconded the speech-adoption motion, and debate was adjourned by Lieut.-Col. F. G. Taylor, Conservative leader.

Mr. Griffiths believed farmers who accepted the statement of Conservatives in the last Dominion election that Canada's economic depression was due to the Mackenzie King government, had learned the fallacy of those assertions. Farm product prices had crashed since election day, he said, and unemployment had increased.

With reference to the Conservative demands for an election, Mr. Hryhorczuk doubted if the people of Manitoba were prepared to change their government. But they did want co-operation of all parties, he insisted.

Precedence Given To High Commissioners

King Gives Order As To Rank On Ceremonial Occasions

London, England.—Office of the secretary of state for the Dominions announces that His Majesty has directed that the high commissioners of the Dominions in London and also the high commissioner for India will rank immediately after the British secretaries of state on all ceremonial occasions other than those when ministers of the crown are present from the Dominions.

This announcement implements the decision reached at the Imperial Conference regarding the precedence to be accorded to the high commissioners.

Position of the Dominion's representative, in relation to a minister of the crown visiting the United Kingdom from the Dominion remain unaltered, the minister being given precedence immediately before the high commissioner concerned.

Passengers Ordered Deported

Britishers On C.P.R. Ship Barred From Landing In Canada

Vancouver, B.C.—Two passengers off the liner "Empress of Russia," which arrived here from the Orient, Captain W. Little and L. Mercer, have been ordered deported by an immigration board of inquiry. Appeals have been lodged in Ottawa against the rulings.

Captain Little was just discharged from the Indian army and was on his way to join relatives in Toronto. Mercer, from Shanghai, an engineer of the steamer "Hedwig," which was wrecked a few months ago off China, said he intended to settle in Canada. The deportations were ordered under the government regulation which bars all but practical farmers and wives of bona-fide Canadian residents from entering the country.

Manitoba Seed Fair

Will Be Held In Conjunction With Winter Fair On March 16

Brandon, Man.—Judging by early inquiries, the provincial seed fair to be held in conjunction with the Manitoba Winter Fair, March 16 to 20, will be larger than ever. Now in its seventh year, the seed fair has grown by leaps and bounds and it cramped the generous show space in the Arena building last year. As the fair is an opportunity for growers of surplus grain, grass or clover seeds to get in touch with prospective purchasers, the exhibition is expected to have more than its usual interest in March.

Claim Commander Was Drunk

Crew Of Canadian Vessel Testify Against United States Officer

New York.—Seamen from the Nova Scotia power boat "Josephine K." appeared before the coastguard board of inquiry to testify that Boatswain Karl Schmidt of the "CG-145" was drunk when he boarded the Canadian vessel after its capture near Ambrose Light. Schmidt, who had admitted he fired the shots, one of which fatally injured the boat's master, William Cluett, Lunenburg, N.S., was in court and heard witnesses swear that after the capture he continued drinking in the fore-castle of the rum-runner.

Louis Sellig, who described himself as an able seaman from Halifax, N.S., gave the main testimony for members of the crew. Schmidt, he said, seemed "good and drunk" when he saw him shortly after the "Josephine K." was boarded. The boatswain had pointed a gun at Allan Falkenham, Lunenburg, and maintained he would have to shoot because Falkenham's name did not appear on the ship's crew list. Schmidt, he said, staggered, his face was red and his eyes "glaring." The commander of the "CG-145" stayed in the fore-castle several hours, and while there consumed six bottles of ale and two drinks of rye whiskey, during which time all members of the "Josephine K's" crew had an opportunity to witness his condition.

Seaman Allan Falkenham said he thought Schmidt drunk; that he waved a gun and told him he would shoot him if he didn't belong to the ship. Harry Jewell said: "He was falling all over himself, and rolling around."

TEST SHIPMENTS OF GRAIN FROM PORT CHURCHILL

Ottawa, Ont.—Test movement of two or possibly three cargoes of grain, about 750,000 bushels, will be shipped through the port of Churchill the middle of next September, according to present plans. A conference held here with representatives of shipping interests indicated that there will be no difficulty getting private steamship companies to undertake the movement. A statement issued on the conference by the Department of Railways and Canals, follows:

"Arrangements for the proposed test movement of grain from the port of Churchill, on Hudson Bay, were under consideration at a conference held in the office of the minister of railways and canals. The meeting was arranged at the instance of the minister, Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, who is taking a warm personal interest in the whole undertaking, and was attended by the principal officers of his department and by representatives of Canadian Government Merchant Marine, and Canadian National Steamships.

"Dr. Manion was assured by his officers that from present indications the port facilities would be sufficiently advanced to admit of the test movement by about the middle of September, the date by which the contractors of the elevators have agreed to have them complete. The movement will dislocate to a certain extent the dredging and dock extension program for the present season, and for that reason will probably be restricted to the shipment of two or possibly three, cargoes of grain approximating about three-quarters of a million bushels.

"The shipping trade is greatly depressed at present, and from inquiries already received, vessel owners are evincing considerable interest in the possibilities of the Hudson Bay route. No great difficulty, therefore, is anticipated in interesting private vessel owners in the business that the test movement will afford and considerable prestige may be expected to accrue to the steamship company having the honor of handling this first commercial movement of grain out of Western Canada's new port.

"It is too early as yet to speak definitely as to either freight or insurance rates, but arrangements are being made to see that that aspect of the situation is thoroughly canvassed, and at the proper time the minister expects to be in a position to meet any eventually which may develop. Meanwhile, both he and the officials of the department feel that there is no question but that it will be possible to demonstrate, this coming fall, that the facilities of the port will be available and capable of taking care of the business which will be attracted to the port on the inauguration of the route at the opening of the 1932 season of navigation."

Asking Lower Freight Rates

B.C. Government Will Back Growers and Cannerymen in Fight

Victoria, B.C.—The government will get behind British Columbia growers and cannerymen in their fight for lower freight rates to the prairies. Premier S. F. Tolmie has instructed Leon J. Lander, K.C., government rate counsel, to co-operate with the growers and cannerymen in commencing proceedings before the railway commission immediately.

Vegetable growers of British Columbia, backed by the canning industry, appealed to the government in strong terms recently to rescue them from a threatened reduction in growing acreage, by about 50 per cent. this year, by an immediate reduction in freight rates from here to prairie markets.

To this end a large delegation urged the cabinet to appoint counsel, and file an immediate application with the railway commission for a cut in western rates to the level of those prevailing from Ontario to the prairies.

It was expected the government would follow this plan and launch a new rate fight without delay.

ANOTHER YEAR ROLLS BY

Commencing with this issue The Chronicle starts on another year of service to the community at large. For the past eight years The Chronicle has been published continuously in Carbon and for three years before that time the newspaper published was known as The Carbon News. Although this newspaper has had its ups and downs during its journalistic career, it has progressed since the first day of its inception, when the paper contained only two pages of local printed matter.
During the past three years The Chronicle contained four pages of local printed matter and in many other ways superceded the issues of this paper in former years. This could only come about by the continued support of the people of Carbon and district and we have been thankful for this support in past years and hope that in the years to come that this patronage will on-crease.

The Chronicle has in the past four and one half years under the guidance of the present publisher, gone through good times and hard times and still the paper is continuing to be published. This past year has been a trying one for us all, but like anything else, the time will come for a change and this year the world is looking forward for this depression to vanish and conditions to come back to normalcy.

Upon commencing this ninth year of publication of The Chronicle we extend to our subscribers and advertis-
support and trust that we will be favored with their patronage and good will during the years to come. And may Volume Nine of this publication see the return of prosperity to the Carbon district and the world in general.

BUDGETING YOUR ADVERTISING

Rent, so much; light and heat, so much; insurance, so much; and other items of running your business all calculated out ahead of time.

But when it comes to advertising, how many make a definite appropriation?
Too often the advertising of local merchants is just hit-or-miss.

It is difficult to say just how much you should spend on advertising. Reckless expenditure is as fatal as too niggardly appropriation. Some consider that 50 per cent of their rent is a fair sum. Others regard 2 per cent of their last year's profits as sufficient.

If no definite appropriation has been made in the past now is a good time to commence. Whether it is $50 or $5000, for the next twelve months, plan your general campaign now. The plan should provide a definite sum over a definite period. And while the advertising is running, have some system of checking up its results.

More money has been wasted by indiscriminate advertising than on the stock exchange. The advertiser who "tries it out for a week" might just as well drop his money in the ocean.

SANE ADVERTISING IN LOCAL NEWSPAPERS HAS NEVER YET
FAILED TO BRING PROFITABLE RETURNS. If in doubt as to what sum you should expend, start in a very small way. Let it be, if you like, as low as $5 a month, and then watch results closely. If you think you cannot afford an ad every week, use the paper every other week. The very fact that you are a steady advertiser increases your prestige in your district and gives you a higher standing than the non-advertiser.

Even if you are sceptical as to the value of advertising, at least give it a fair trial over a three-month period.

Latest official report on the field crops of Canada estimates the 1930 wheat crop at 395,854,000 bushels or about 11,000,000 bushels more than the previous official estimate made last September. 374,000,000 were grown in the Prairie Provinces. The crop is about 91,000,000 bushels more than in 1929.

Great increase in pork production in Canada on account of the grain situation was predicted by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture for Canada, at a recent banquet in Toronto given by him to agriculturists, business executives and government representatives on behalf of the Federal Government at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto.

The salmon pack of British Columbia for the 1930 season is nearly 100,000 cases higher than the previous record of 1928. The total pack this year is 2,163,712 cases while in 1929 it was 1,389,476 cases.
In 1926 it was 2,065,151 cases.

"Close the door, Julie. There's a draught through here and it's going to rain. What time do you expect Mrs. Halliday? I suppose she wanted you tonight because of her company. Will they be here to supper?"

"Who? Mrs. Halliday ain't got no company. She an' Nick" (Julie, who had cleaned house for everyone in Bakersville since Nick was a little boy, wouldn't have deigned to say "Mr. Hastings"), "started soon as they et breakfast. Mr. Halliday's away. Not comin' back till tomorrow. He's buryin' his ma."

Gay sat down rather weakly on the stairs.

"I know, but—but I thought she had company. I supposed that was why she didn't go to the funeral."

"You supposed wrong then. I heard her tell Mr. Halliday that seel'n his ma had never liked her, she didn't see no reason why she should go. I felt kind o' sorry for him, because 'twas plain he was feelin' bad. He said: 'Angela, I'd like you to go with me. What will Mary think?' Mary's his sister—an invalid. She can't walk; but just then they see me in the next room and stopped talkin'."

Gay sat very still on the stairs. Her knees felt as though they wouldn't hold her up.

"Perhaps," she suggested, "perhaps they were to pick up her friends at the station."

But Julie's answer dashed this hope.

"No, they went in the small car, not the new one. Besides, Mrs. Halliday put up the lunch, and she only put up enough for two; stuffed eggs, cold chicken, salad sandwiches (every one in a separate piece o' paper and the crusts sliced off), spice cake, and—"

A flash of lightning and terrific crash of thunder interrupted. Little Nick, always nervous at any sudden noise, cried out, and even Sonny, who had been taught not to mind the storms, scuttled close to his mother's skirts like a frightened chick.

"Gee!" said Julie. "Glad I come over when I did. Say, let's get out o' this dark hall. I'll turn on a light in the sittin' room."

Gay arose, her knees still strangely weak, and lifted her baby.

"Sonny, dear little boy, you go to Julie. There's nothing to be afraid of. Don't you remember what Daddy told you about Rip Van Winkle and the nine-pins? They must be having a splendid game today—Rip and the little brown men."

"I wish Daddy'd tum," said the boy wistfully. "I wish he'd tum."

Tears sprang to Gay's eyes.

"Maybe he'll come soon, darling," she comforted; but Julie, with characteristic tactlessness observed:

"And most likely he won't. They was goin' clear to Mason's Falls. Them hills is awful. That's why she wanted Nick to go, I guess, though I should think she'd ha' stayed at home, seel'n that she wouldn't go to her mother-in-law's funeral. 'Tain't no time to be gallivantin' seems to me. Say! sometimes, Gay, they fight like cats and dogs—her an' him."

"You—you ought not to tell me about it, Julie," Gay protested, though her thoughts were far away.

"Well, I ain't no gossip, but things is queer there. I ain't married myself, but I've cleaned house for most every married pair in Bakersville, and I'll tell the world" (Julie, who read the Sunday comics, was nothing if not modern in her slang), "that what I don't know about married folks, ain't worth botherin' to find out. Some of 'em fight, but most of 'em's got a room they call 'our room,' even if it's got two beds in it 'stead o' one (and an awful waste o' sheets I call it, too), but the Hallidays—they've got rooms to themselves, and bathrooms besides. (Glory! ain't that lightin' fierce?)

"She's got the big room that was Selina Smith's spare chamber—and the next best is for visitors, only they don't have any. Mr. Halliday has the room next to mine, the one in the ell. It ain't big, but then, he don't do nothin' in it but sleep, though once" (Julie's voice dropped to a mysterious whisper), "once, Gay, and don't you ever tell this or I'd lose my place, I could ha' sworn he was cryin'! It was late one night, and I swear if he'd been a woman I'd ha' bet my last dollar on it. But then, maybe I was mistaken. It might ha' been a cat. Sometimes cats sound terrible human."

Gay shuddered—not at Julie's pitiful disclosure which she had heard only subconsciously—not at the lighting, which was very near, but at the thought that Nick had possibly deceived her. Then she flushed hotly at her own baseness. How could she even for a minute—even in the light of damning evidence, believe such a thing of Nick? Not to save his soul would he lie to her! There was some mistake. Perhaps she hadn't heard right over the wires. For a moment she clung to this solution of the mystery, only to discard it when she remembered how clear his voice had sounded, and his laugh. But he couldn't have laughed like that had his conscience been guilty. If he had gone with Mrs. Halliday alone, as Julie seemed so positive, there was some reason for it, of course, which he'd explain. What were wives for anyway, if not to trust, wholly and completely? Slowly she came back to the present to hear Julie say:

"There! I do believe the worst of it's over. I'm goin' out and clean up your kitchen. Mrs. Halliday's payin' for my time so might as well use it. She don't want me for anything but an ornament to her back porch to-

Results Commendable. Genuine Gratitude.

Miss Miller, of Croydon, writes:—"In gratitude, I feel I must write and tell you what wonderful benefit I have derived from taking a bottle of your Carter's Little Liver Pills. Having been troubled with indigestion and sick headache for several months, a friend recommended me to try your famous pills, with the results that after the first dose I was made aware of their very real tonic value, and felt I had at last discovered a remedy which performed what it claimed to do." day. How do you like my hair this way, Gay? It's the latest style."

"I—I don't think I've got used to it yet," Gay answered, feeling, in spite of her foreboding thoughts, an hysterical desire to laugh.

"I'm savin' up for a permanent wave," said Julie. "Then it won't look so straggly. That's what Mrs. Halliday does to hers. Say! you'd ought to see the truck on her bureau! spends enough time an' money fussin' with it! It takes her more'n an hour alone to fix her nails."

"I shouldn't think they'd ever need fixin'," said Gay discouragedly, as she looked down at her own brown hands. Even the month at Uncle Sim's had not entirely obliterated the scars of toil. Nick had once said that her hands were beautiful. They were beautiful no longer—and Mrs. Halliday's were soft and white. Was Nick, perhaps, looking at them now, clasped lightly in her lap, and thinking—comparing . . .

"Now, Sonny," Julie was saying briskly as she looked from the window, "that storm's most over. I'm goin' to help your ma, and you just stand here by the window, and if you see your pa and Mrs. Halliday ride up, you run an' tell me an' I'll scoot home and let 'em in the front door."

"Oh, Julie," said Gay uneasily, "I mustn't let you see Mrs. Halliday's time to do my work."

"Now look her," said Julie sensibly, facing Gay with a hand on either hip, "a fair exchange ain't no robbery. If Nick was home he'd be helpin' you clean up and unpack, or he's changed some from the boy his Aunt Nettie trained up. And if he's drivin' Mrs. Halliday's car for her, it won't hurt nobody for me to sweep the dust out o' your kitchen. Men folks is terrible careless housekeepers—the best of 'em. Now you run along and make the beds, and Sunday or no Sunday, I'll slick up down here. Mrs. Halliday won't ever know a thing about it—not from me anyway."

The lightning had almost ceased, but it still rained drearily, and the house was dark. Gay glanced at the clock. It was nearly six, and her baby nodded.

"I'll give him some milk and put him to bed now, Julie," she said, "and by the time he's off Sonny'll be ready for the night. You're good to help me, but—but I'd hate to have Mrs. Halliday find you here."

"She won't find me," Julie was removing her cuffs and turning back her skirt. "I declare, this ain't no costume for cleanin', but it's sort o' nifty, don't you think, Gay? I—"

"Man tumin'," called Sonny from his watch tower.

Julie and Gay both turned to the window to see a taxi stopping before the house next door.

"Glory!" came breathlessly from Julie. "It's him! She didn't expect him till tomorrow. I got to run. What'll he think when I tell him she's been off all day with another feller? Sorry I can't stay, Gay; but likely he'll want some supper. If the storm gets worse again I'll run over, I . . ."

Julie was still talking as she ran out the door and through the gap in the hedge. Gay, watching in a petrified silence, saw James Halliday take out a latch key and open his front door. Suddenly she visioned the lonely home-coming after his sad errand—she remembered Julie's disclosure of those sounds in the night that "might have been a cat," and now, to come home to find his wife gone a-pleasuring—gone "with another feller," as Julie put it—gone with Nick—

Little Helps For This Week

"In Thy light shall we see light."—Psalm xxxvi. 9.

We older children grope our way
From dark behind to dark before;
And only when our hands we lay,
Dear Lord, in Thine, the night is day,
And there is darkness nevermore.

Reach downward to the sunless days,
Wherein our guides are blind as we,
And faith is small and hope delays;
Take Thou the hands of prayer we raise,

And let us feel the light of Thee.
—John Greenleaf Whittier.

A man who looks toward the light sees no shadow; a man who walks toward the light leaves darkness behind him. People get in darkness by turning away from the light. They hide in obscure corners; they bury themselves in nooks, where the Sun of Righteousness cannot reach them; they close their blinds and shutters, and wonder that they have no light. A house may be dark, but it is not the fault of the sun. A soul may be dark, but it is not because the Light of the World does not shed beams abroad.—Armory.

The total of Greater Winnipeg building permits for the year 1930, amounted to $9,235,457, which includes the cities of Winnipeg and St. Boniface, and seven municipalities.

Constipated Children

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it positively cannot thrive. To keep the little one well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative; are pleasant to take and can be given to the new-born babe with perfect safety. Thousands of mothers use no other medicine for their little ones but Baby's Own Tablets. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

India Will Enter Exhibit

India will exhibit at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference in Regina in 1932, according to word received from M. S. A. Hydari, I.S.C., secretary of the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research, New Delhi, conveyed through the office of His Excellency the Viceroy. Grain and fodder crops will constitute the display.

for ANY CHILD

WE can never be sure just what makes a child restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as your child has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes constipation, or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

To receive a parcel posted to him 15 years ago was the novel experience at Winnipeg, recently, of Pipe-Major Alex. Cameron, of Transcona. After many months of travel through the numerous base post offices in war-torn France and Flanders, the parcel eventually was returned to W. Connor, the original sender.

DEFEATING OURSELVES

People who are plucky enough in many of the great issues of life have been known to "defeat themselves" when it comes to a matter of their own good health. There is a great deal in self-suggestion as every golfer will tell you.

"I never do well at this hole" says a player, and straightway makes a poor shot. He has already invited defeat, by assuring his mind that he will go down at that particular place. Doctors tell us that there is nothing easier than for people to tell themselves they are ill, and actually make themselves so by allowing their minds to depress their bodies.

A clever doctor has many assets besides the degrees of medicine his certificates stand for. His confidence and courage, his cheerfulness and good spirits are his valuable assistants in putting heart into his neurotic patients. One of his chief difficulties is to prevent people "shaking hands with defeat" and giving up the fight.

It is the highest form of wisdom to practice the great art of keeping well, by having a healthy outlook on life and on our own health. Determine to have health up to 100 per cent or know the reason why. It is your birthright. You were meant to enjoy every day with its work and play. If you do not there must be something wrong with the works. Why not do as you would with your car when it is out of commission? Call in an expert and see what the trouble is and have any repair parts replaced. Is it teeth, or eyes, or lack of ambition? Whatever is the cause a physical examination once a year is the truest economy, and an obligation you owe to yourself.

To Bring Bermuda Next Door

Already the winter playground of many Canadians, Bermuda will be brought even closer to Canada by the inauguration, January 31st, of a weekly sailing from New York by the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of York.

The island—or, to be correct—the 365 coral islands that form Bermuda in addition to being the closest summer-weather resort to Canada is famous for lilies, golf and bathing.

Canadian professionals from Toronto and Hamilton are familiar faces on two of the many fine courses of which Bermuda boasts, and excellent bathing both on beaches and in open-air sea-water pools is a feature.
